Teachers Told to Be Careful on Evolution

By PETE YOUNG
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "Evolution is to the biologist as the atom is to the chemist and physicists," according to the leading biology textbooks used by schools in Arkansas and around the nation.
Many Arkansas biology teachers agree, although most of those interviewed Monday were reluctant to discuss the 1928 Arkansas law that makes it unlawful for them to teach the theory of evolution.
Those that did comment said it was impossible not to teach the theory and that they knew of no modern biology books that didn't have a chapter on evolution.
But the Arkansas Supreme Court has held that the state has the right to regulate the curriculum of its schools, and can prohibit the teaching of Darwin's theory.
Eugene R. Warren, attorney for the Arkansas Education Association and Mrs. Susan Epperson, who filed the suit challenging the 38-year-old law, said Monday that under the high court ruling, teachers should "refuse to teach in a school which uses or attempts to use a textbook with the forbidden material therein."

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MR. AND MRS. BILLY WINN LEE

The First Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Brenda Kay Bain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bain, and Bill Winn Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Lee of Paris, Ark., on Sunday, June 18 at 2 p.m. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Everett Vinson beneath an arch of greenery with a background of seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers and baskets of white gladioli and stocks.

Before the wedding the candles were lighted by Miss Patti Lee of Paris, sister of the groom, and David Bain, brother of the bride. Luther Hollamon, organist, played a program of nuptial music and accompanied the vocal soloist, Miss Gayle Williams. She sang "Because" prior to the exchange of vows and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length wedding gown of white peau de sole and Chantilly lace. It was fashioned with a scalloped neckline, a fitted bodice, and three-quarter-length sleeves. The skirt swept into a chapel train, and the bride's veil of illusion was held in place by a satin rose in her hair. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. The bridal bouquet of fleur d'amour was centered with a white orchid.

Serving as the bride's honor attendant was Miss Susan Rogers. She wore pale yellow brocade with a matching flowered hat, and she carried a single, long-stemmed yellow rose.

Brinson Cornwell, Dardanelle, was the best man. Ushers were Darrel Gattis of Paris and Dennis Hyatt of Seminole, Okla.

Blue silk shantung trimmed with lace with matching accessories was the choice of the bride's mother, Mrs. Bain. Mrs. Lee, mother of the groom, wore pale green trimmed with lace and had matching accessories. Each had a corsage of yellow roses. After the wedding a reception was held in the recreation rooms of the church. The serving table was centered with an arrangement of white stocks and pom-poms with white candles in silver holders. Serving the punch and tiered wedding cake were Mrs. Bill Faulkner, North Little Rock, and Mrs. Paul Puckett, Texarkana, both cousins of the bride, Miss Lynn Russell, and Miss Junanne Reynolds. Miss Margie Waddle had charge of the bride's book. Each member of the house party wore a corsage of yellow pom-poms.

For travel the bride donned a green, A-line dress trimmed in white. With it she wore white accessories and pinned the orchid from her wedding bouquet at her shoulder.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home this summer in Paris, Ark. In the fall both will enroll at Arkansas Tech in Jonesboro.

Luci Nugent Home With New Baby

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Home with her new baby, 19-year-old Luci Johnson Nugent says she really knows what happiness is now.

Beaming with pride, the President's daughter and her husband, Patrick J. Nugent, 23, introduced their 6-day-old son to the public as they left Seton Hospital Monday afternoon in the 95-degree Texas weather.

Fat-faced, pug-nosed, blue-eyed, and unperturbed by all the excitement, Patrick Lyndon Nugent, nicknamed "Lyn," came through his first news conference without any comment.

Luci expressed two main wishes for little Lyn: "We want him to grow up in a peaceful world," she said, "To be the best of whatever he wants to be."

The Nugents conceded that as the President's first grandchild their son would no doubt be spoiled. "That's the prerogative of grandparents," said the father.

"I think we're almost beaten before we begin," Luci added with a smile.

"I thought I knew happiness on my wedding day, but I found I really didn't know it until we had Lyn," she said later in words sent from home to reporters.

Luci said she has been reading many baby books but noted "that's not raising him 24 hours a day. I'm in for a lot of new experiences."

When the Nugents drove off in their green convertible, Luci handed the baby to her husband.

As he took it with obvious nervousness, Luci announced to the delighted cheers and applause of the crowd: "It's the first time he's ever held the baby."

Mother and baby were discharged from the hospital with excellent health reports. Lyn checked out weighing 8 pounds 1 1/2 ounces and measuring 21 inches.

Lyn wore a double-breasted white suit with cardigan jacket and short, white pants, a shirt, white socks, and a pair of white-wool booties, knitted for him by Sister Anna Marie, head nurse at Seton Hospital.

The baby was wrapped in a yellow-and-white crocheted blanket, which Luci said was sent by someone she didn't know personally. But she said she loved it because it symbolized all the gifts people had sent here.

Hung around Lyn's arm was a tiny heart-shaped gold locket that had been worn by Luci's older sister Lynda as a baby.

HERMITAGE, Ark. (AP) — Bobby Meggs, manager of the Hermitage Pink Tomato Market, said Saturday that both volume and prices were up compared to the same period last year, making the season one of the Hermitage Pink Tomato Market Association's best.

Meggs said prices were averaging 30 cents a box higher than in 1966 and that volume through June 23 was 340,000 20-pound boxes, compared to 115,000 boxes during the same period last year.

Meggs said the trading was expected to decrease starting Tuesday, but that the market would operate into July.

Berry's Hit Takes Sox Over Orioles

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer Ken Berry's game of Blind Man's Bluff has convinced Ed Stanky that the hands sometimes are quicker than the eye.

Berry, suffering from an eye ailment, passed a Stanky eye examination to get into Monday night's game against Baltimore, then talked his way to the plate in the ninth inning before flashing a two-run single that gave the Chicago White Sox a 5-4 victory over the Orioles.

"Berry out-talked me for the first time in my major league career," Manager Stanky said after the slender outfielder's two-out, bases-loaded single brought the American League leaders from behind.

While Berry was blurring the Orioles' vision, rookie Bill Robinson, who came out of a batting trance when he threw away his eye-glasses, stroked three hits in a game for the first time as the New York Yankees trimmed Kansas City 5-2 for their fourth straight victory.

Elsewhere in the AL, Minnesota edged Boston 2-1 and California nipped Washington 4-3. Detroit and Cleveland were tied.

In the National League, the New York Mets topped Pittsburgh 3-2; St. Louis beat San Francisco 3-1; Los Angeles blanked Cincinnati 3-0 and the Chicago Cubs defeated Philadelphia 4-2. Houston and Atlanta were not scheduled.

Berry entered the White Sox' line-up as a defensive replacement in the eighth inning — after convincing Stanky he could see by reading numbers on the stadium scoreboard.

When his turn to bat came up in the ninth, however, Stanky summoned a pinch hitter from the bullpen.

"I can't let a blind man bat," the manager blurted.

Berry then came through with a winning argument. . . and the winning hit.

The White Sox had loaded the bases on Tom McCraw's single, Pete Ward's infield hit, a sacrifice bunt and an intentional walk. Jim King forced McCraw at the plate for the second out, setting the stage for Berry acquired from Atlanta in the winter trade for Clete Boyer, also threw out one runner at second base and held another at third with a bullet peg to the plate.

Since discarding the glasses and altering his batting stance, Robinson has hit safely in six straight games and raised his average 36 points to .159.

Tom Tresh, another sub-.200 hitter on the upswing, belted a solo homer and run-scoring single for the Yankees. The victory was marred, however, by the loss of catcher Elston Howard for at least 10 days. Howard fractured a knuckle on the ring finger of his throwing hand in the eighth inning.

Tony Oliva doubled in the fourth inning, Zoilo Versalles singled him home and Ted Uhlaender slammed a tie-breaking triple, lifting the Twins past the Red Sox. Al Worthington rescued winner Jim Kaat from an eighth inning jam and checked another Boston rally in the ninth.

The Angels ran up a 4-0 lead with the help of two run-scoring singles by Bob Rodgers, then held off Washington for their 16th victory in the last 21 games.

MILLIONAIRE Buckpasser could be taking it easy, but he and trainer Eddie Naylor are preparing for the $50,000 Bowling Green handicap at Aqueduct. It will be Buckpasser's first race on grass.

Kaline Leads National Loop Stars

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Al Kaline of Detroit led the ticket with 242 votes today when Baseball Commissioner William Eckert announced the results of the poll of American League players, managers and coaches for the All-Star team to face the National League July 11 at Anaheim.

Kaline and Bill Freehan of the Tigers and the Robinson boys of Baltimore—outfielder Frank and third baseman Brooks—were the only repeaters from last year's starters. Pitchers and other squad members will be picked later by Manager Hank Bauer of Baltimore.

Rod Carew, second baseman of the Minnesota Twins, became the only rookie to make the club. Rico Petrocelli, Boston shortstop, also was picked for the first time. Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota and Carl Yastrzemski of Boston have been there before, but were not starters last season. There were only two left-handed batters—Yastrzemski and Carew.

Kaline received all but five of the votes he could possibly have polled, for players are not allowed to pick their own teammates. The American League had 273 ballots and Detroit contributed 26 of them. Thus Kaline got 242 of a possible 247.

Frank Robinson, the triple crown champ and Most Valuable Player in 1966, drew 239 votes, missing on only six ballots of a possible 245. Baltimore had 28 votes.

The number of votes varied, depending on the number of coaches and also on the number of players who had been in the league the required minimum of 30 days.

There were no close contests. The closest was Petrocelli with 122 to runner-up Jim Fregosi of California with 58, a margin of 64 votes.

It was interesting that Baltimore, Detroit, Boston and Minnesota each got two starters but the league leading Chicago White Sox didn't get one.

Freehan won in a breeze with 222 votes although a total of nine catchers drew votes.

Killebrew was the first baseman as expected by a wide margin over Don Mincher of the California Angels. Mickey Mantle, an All-Star many times in center field, drew only 10 votes as a first baseman.

Despite Brooks Robinson's off year he had 140 votes more than the next best third baseman, Max Alvis of Cleveland.

Under the rules as revised last year, the players vote for outfielders as a unit, not naming any position. Kaline, Frank Robinson and Yastrzemski were way out in front. Yastrzemski was third with 219 and Tony Oliva of Minnesota was fourth with 28.

The National League team was to be announced Thursday and the rest of the squads later.

1st Inning Enough for Lucy's Team

Friday night at City Park Little League action got underway with three games on tap. The first game saw Lucy's Cafe defeat the Merchants by a lopsided score of 20-6. It was no contest as Lucy's scored 12 runs in the first inning to sew up the victory for their starting and winning pitcher, Hosea Turner which evened his record with 2 wins and 2 losses.

In the second game Wire Products continued to roll by whooping Lloyd's Gro. sounder by a score of 31-4. It was a slugfest for Wire Products as all thirteen players contributed at least 1 hit to the winning cause. It was Wayne Jackson's third win without a loss.

In the third and final game Hardee Powell broke their seven game losing streak by us setting Young's Chev. with a score of 8-3. The hitting star of the game was Alonzo Nelson who went 3 for 4 and drove in four runs. Gene Stiggs was the winning pitcher which evened his record up with 1 win and 1 loss.

Cards Beat Giants With Cosman

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer Jim Cosman taught the St. Louis Cardinals a little Yiddish by passing around his glove, but they got a bigger kick from the lesson he taught the San Francisco Giants by unwinding his right arm.

The rookie pitcher, a Roman Catholic, has the Yiddish word "mazel," which means luck, written on his glove.

But Cosman relied more on a new no-windup delivery Monday night to get across a four-hitter to the Giants for 8 1-3 innings as the Cardinals rang up a 3-1 victory.

"Billy Muffett (Cardinal pitching coach) changed my delivery," Cosman said. "I never used it before, but it felt good before the game, so I tried it."

The Chicago Cubs also were doing things the new way again Monday afternoon, beating Philadelphia 4-2, extending their winning streak to seven games, longest since 1954.

The New York Mets pulled a surprise too, coming from behind to upend Pittsburgh 3-2, while Claude Osteen rolled along for Los Angeles with a five-hitter that halted Cincinnati 3-0. Atlanta and Houston were not scheduled.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox slipped by Baltimore 5-4, the New York Yankees defeated Kansas City 5-2, Minnesota topped Boston 2-1, and California edged Washington 4-3. Detroit and Cleveland were idle.

Cosman, who also keeps in his locker a mezuzah, a parchment that contains passages from the Old Testament, thanks some Jewish friends in his home town of Nashville, Tenn., for his good luck symbols.

"They said Jim O'Toole (White Sox pitcher) had inscribed the word 'think' on his glove, so why shouldn't I use 'mazel'?" Cosman said.

For his pitching success in his first appearance since being called up from Tulsa last week, he credits Muffett.

"He had a dream last night that I should try the no windup delivery," Cosman said, "and when anybody dreams about my pitching, I've got to try his suggestion."

"I thought he'd throw more strikes this way," Muffett said. "He's been taking his head off the target because he raises his arm too high."

Cosman, who hurled a two-hit, 2-0 shutout at the Cubs on the last day of the 1966 season, made four relief appearances this year before he was sent down, allowed only one unearned run before he left with one on and one out in the ninth. Nelson Briles got the last two outs.

Cosman also drove in the decisive second run in the second inning with his first major league hit as he led the league-leading Cardinals to a 3½-game bulge over Cincinnati.

Successive homers by Billy Williams and Ron Santo and a run-scoring single by Al Spangler in the first inning kept the surprising Cubs on target, pulling them within a half game of the Reds. Rookie Rich Nye, 6-3, and relievers Cal Koonce and Chuck Hartenstein protected the lead.

The last-place Mets were struggling along, as usual, behind 2-0 before Ken Boyer tied the game with his first homer with two out in the eighth inning. Pinch hitter Ed Charles completed the about face with a run-scoring single in the ninth off Elroy Face.

Osteen had little trouble with the injury-plagued Reds as he raised his record to 10-7. Only one man got past second base against him.

Ron Hunt backed him up with a homer and Willie Davis tripled in a run and scored on Ron Fairly's sacrifice fly as the Dodgers beat Mel Queen, 8-3.

Contrary to popular belief, parents of a teenage boy DO know where he is. They know he's in the car. They just don't know where the car is.

Durocher Is Getting Voice Back

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO (AP) — Leo Durocher, who has played it mum since the Chicago Cubs' disastrous last place finish in 1966, is getting his voice back.

When Leo took over as manager following the Cubs' eighth place finish in 1965, he bellowed in his foghorn voice: "All I know is the Cubs are not an eighth place team."

Once it became evident the Cubs were going to finish 10th, everyone said Leo had been right. The Cubs weren't an eighth place club, they were 10th and last.

Compounding this with a Durocherism of years past that "nice guys finish last," the hecklers had a field day although it was extremely unfair.

Durocher, convinced the Cubs were going nowhere without youth, traded off established pitchers like Larry Jackson, Bob Buhl and Lindy McDaniel for the likes of Ferguson Jenkins, Bill Hands, Randy Hundley and Adolfo Phillips.

These youngsters, among others, have been every bit as good this year as they were bad last year.

Their development, coupled with the improving second base combination of Glenn Beckert and Don Kessinger along with the steady help of veterans Ron Santo, Billy Williams and Ernie Banks, has turned the Cubs into winners.

The Cubs conked Philadelphia 4-2 Monday for their seventh straight victory. Not since 1954 has a Cub team won seven straight. And even though it is early — almost too early — the word "pennant" is being bandied about on the North Side.

Durocher popped out of his shell Monday when asked about the differences between when he took over the Cubs and when he became manager of the New York Giants in 1946.

"It was mid-season when I accepted the Giant job from Horace Stoneham. All I did was observe until the season ended. Then Horace asked me for a report on the team, I wrote him a note which said back up the truck."

"This set Horace off because he knew I meant we had to make changes. He told me about the club setting a home run record. But I told him about the times we'd play Boston and Eddie Stanky would walk, go from first to third on a single and score on a fly ball."

"We'd go back into the clubhouse with all those home run hitters, but Boston would win the game 3-2. It took time, but I convinced Horace and we started to make changes."

"It's been a lot easier here. When I took over the Cubs, I made a few suggestions and Mr. Wrigley P.K. Wrigley told me I was the boss, John Holland (vice president) bent over backwards to help."

"They had finished in the second division 19 years and I helped make it 20. But the Cubs have shed the defeatist attitude. They believe in themselves now. I always expect hustle but I've never seen anything like this. It'll be interesting to see where we wind up."

American Pulls Upset in Net Play

By GEOFFREY MILLER

Associated Press Sports Writer WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Charlie Pasarell, who didn't make the U.S. Davis Cup team because his record wasn't good enough, was the hero of Wimbledon today.

The 23-year-old Puerto Rican from Santurce upset the defending champion, Manuel Santana, of Spain, 10-8, 6-3, 2-6, 8-6 Monday and sent Wimbledon off to its most sensational start. Never before, since the All-England championships were started in 1867, had the champion been dethroned in the first round.

Inevitably, Pasarell has come into the reckoning for the title, which has been won by an American only once in the past 10 years.

"Well, if I didn't think I had a chance of winning Wimbledon I wouldn't be playing here," Pasarell said. "Grass suits me. I always play my best tennis on grass courts."

Wednesday he takes on another formidable opponent—Bob Hewitt, the Australian who is now a member of South Africa's Davis Cup squad. Pasarell and Hewitt have never played each other previously.

Pasarell, winner of the U.S. Indoor title for the last two years, has played most of his tennis this year on hard courts — and hasn't done very well.

That was why he didn't get into the act at Guayaquil last week, when the U.S. Davis Cup team was humiliated by little Ecuador.

Santana, full of good sportsmanship after his defeat, said Pasarell could be a man to watch in this year's tournament.

"If he can beat Hewitt in the next round he should certainly go at least as far as the quarter-finals," Santana said.

"There are so many good players that I hesitate to predict who will win the title. I guess Roy Emerson must be the favorite."

Emerson, the Australian who is after his third Wimbledon title in four years, surmounted the first hurdle by crushing Keith Carpenter of Canada 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Osuna, the Mexican Davis Cup star, also tapped Emerson to win the title. Osuna made his prediction after winning his first Wimbledon match for two years, a 6-4, 11-9, 12-10 victory over Japan's Ichizo Koshihishi.

"Looking down the names in the men's singles, Emerson is the man who scares me most," Osuna said.

Says Rural Poverty Is Ignored

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Subcommittee on Rural Development, accused the nation's governors Monday of ignoring poverty in their rural areas.

If every state would create an Office of Rural Affairs to secure federal funds that rural areas do not know they can get, it could mean an additional $10 to $20 million in federal aid to them, he said.

Arkansas Economic Opportunity Director Glen L. Jermstad, who was representing Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller at Monday's hearings, said many states could not afford the proposed new office.

Jermstad proposed instead that a variety of restrictions be removed for easier distribution of federal funds and that federal guidelines be made flexible enough to meet local conditions.

Little Children Have Vanished in Arizona Town—People Scared

By RANDY COLLIER

SIERRA VISTA, Ariz. (AP) — The little children of this community have vanished. It is as if some Pied Piper lured them away with his magic pipe.

They're in their homes or their backyards or in the family car. Parents keep constant watch. Two blonde girls have vanished—one from her home, another from a play area—to become murder victims.

The people are frightened.

A local pawn shop owner says he could get rich if he had more .25-caliber automatic pistols. "They're selling like hotcakes," said the dealer. "The women here say they aren't going to let some nut kill their children without at least putting up a fight."

It was nearly two months ago that pretty blue-eyed, blonde-haired Cindy Clelland disappeared from her home in Sierra Vista, which has grown up around Ft. Huachuca. The sprawling desert Army post is headquarters for the Strategic Communications Command.

The girl, daughter of an Army sergeant, was found stabbed to death in a brutal fashion three days later. She was nude when searchers found her body on a remote firing range.

Then last Thursday, Jenelle Haines, whose father is a lieutenant colonel, disappeared while playing near a pond at the Ft. Huachuca Officers Club. She was found eight hours later, her skull crushed by what is thought to have been a large rock.

Because the second killing was on federal property, the Federal Bureau of Investigation was called in. Agents working out of Ft. Huachuca refused to comment, saying, "We'll call you if anything happens."

A number of persons interviewed Monday said they felt it was unfair to be left in the dark. "We don't know what to watch out for," said one woman as she shopped with her three children tagging along behind. "Surely someone saw something, it seems they could tell us more."

Civilians here say they think the killer—or killers—is in the Army. Military personnel say townspeople are always quick to blame the Army.

"There is no way of knowing who the killer is," said one officer who refused to give his name. "Anyone can get on this post. All you have to do is stop at the gate and get a pass. It could just as easily have been a civilian."

But the real worry isn't whether the killer is a soldier or a civilian. People say they won't trust anyone, not even their neighbors, until someone is arrested.

Repossession

"I have come to repossess your sewing machine," the burly visitor announced. "You are behind in your payments."

Undaunted, the housewife sat down firmly on top of the sewing machine. Equally undaunted, the man tilted it sideways, threw her to the floor, and stalked off with the machine.

The indignant woman lost no time in suing the sewing machine company for damages. And the court ruled in her favor. The judge said that, even though the company had a legal right to the machine, it had no right to take possession by the use of force.

Groups Take Up Antiriot Legislation

By ROBERT A. HUNT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two committees are racing to complete action on antiriot legislation—with the winner likely to determine the formal stance the House takes toward racial uprisings across the land.

The Judiciary Committee meets today to consider a package bill involving both civil rights and riots. The Rules Committee, meanwhile, takes a look at a move to bring the same antiriot proposal along by itself.

There has been mounting pressure in Congress for enactment of antiriot legislation in the wake of violence in Tampa, Dayton, Boston, Cincinnati and other cities. Civil rights militants have cautioned a summer of racial violence is in prospect.

Activity quickened last week when Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the Judiciary Committee pushed the package bill through his subcommittee in one short meeting after threats from many backers to take it to the House floor by other means.

But Chairman William C. Cramer, D-Miss., of the Rules Committee has thrown his support to clearing the measures separately for House consideration.

Backers of the package approach contend it is necessary to show civil rights leaders that while violence won't be tolerated, Congress still is willing to take action to better guarantee the rights of minorities.

The antiriot bill would make it a federal crime punishable by up to five years imprisonment to cross a state boundary to "incite, organize, promote or encourage" a riot.

The civil rights provision aims at protecting Negroes against threats or force when posed of the farm manager and they are lawfully engaged in two warden's, excluding the such activities as voting, attending a prisoner's public schools or using public accommodations. The same measure was approved by the House last year but died in the Senate along with the rest of the 1966 Civil Rights Act.

Court Gets Regulations for Strap Use

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Pardons and Paroles filed a set of regulations governing the use of the leather strap in U.S. District Court Monday in compliance with a June 3 order by U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Young and Oren Harris.

"Corporal punishment," according to the regulations, "is not deemed necessary to be used at Tucker Prison Farm because the inmates are youthful first offenders."

Judges Young and Harris had enjoined prison officials from using the strap for disciplinary purposes until the court had received a list of "adequate and proper safeguards."

The regulations were filed by Assistant Atty. Gen. R. D. Smith III on behalf of the prison board. They specify corporal punishment for agitation, insubordination, refusal to work, participating and inciting a riot, escape, homosexuality and use of drugs.

The regulations also dictate the number of times an inmate can be lashed and the period of time which must elapse before a prisoner can be whipped again.

A prisoner can receive only 10 lashes at one disciplining under the regulations. No inmate shall "be whipped within 24 hours" after having previously been lashed, and a prisoner cannot be whipped until six hours after a decision by the board of inquiry.

The board of inquiry, under the regulations, will be composed of threats or force when posed of the farm manager and they are lawfully engaged in two warden's, excluding the such activities as voting, attending a prisoner's public schools or using pub-

Laydown Slam Not Biddable

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

An expert calls a hand is a "laydown" any time he feels that the hand will make if played correctly.

Thus, today's hand is a laydown six no-trump but we wonder about how many average players would actually bid and make this hand. Some might make only three.

The way to make three is to hold back the ten of clubs. An expert would attack the clubs at trick two by leading the queen and continuing with the 10. West wouldn't cover but the expert would rise with dummy's king anyway. East would show out and the club suit could be brought home any time. If South leads the three of clubs instead of the ten, he also finds out about the club break but can't do anything about it. The 10 will block the suit provided West is smart enough not to cover it with the jack.

The play for six is quite complicated. South starts by giving up a diamond or a heart. Let's say he gives up a diamond. Later on he handles clubs the right way but runs off all his high cards except one high heart before playing dummy's last three clubs. His discards on the last two clubs will be a low heart and low diamond and he will be left with two hearts. A high one and a low one. Dummy will be left with a low heart and low diamond and East with a head-ache. He will have to come down to two cards also and will either have to throw his last diamond or one of his two hearts.

As stated earlier the slam was a laydown but it is not really biddable because it depends on being able to run clubs and finding East with at least four cards in each red suit.

mended confinement, reduction of rations and loss of privileges as other means of punishment. Judges Young and Harris enjoined the prison officials after reviewing petitions from William King Jackson, Lyle Ernest Jr., and Gardy W. Mask, three Tucker Prison Farm inmates. The inmates contended there was misuse of the strap in the petitions.

Paragraph One Water Divided Only by Consent

Radio stations like newspapers get some hard knocks for their weather forecasts, although the weather news for both originates with the federal government. I encountered this wise-crack about local KXAR this morning:

It was raining hard when I drove by the Citizens National Bank, and seeing Ben Edwards doing a sidewalk job of supervising construction of the new drive-in entrance I bellowed: "Did you sell the boat?" Ben's reply stopped the car. He said: "Well and no, it's like this: I heard Haskell Jones on the radio telling us, 'You can start taking in hay' - so I decided I'd better keep the boat..."

I gather from Leland DuVall's economic review in last Sunday's Arkansas Gazette he's keeping up with the Texas Water Commission's propaganda and the threat it poses against our projected paper mill complex on Little River near McNab.

As you will recall, The Star scoffed at this threat when it was sprung on us recently, for, as we pointed out, the Texas plan to divert part of Red River into Trinity River to help the Dallas area was violently opposed 10 years ago by Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana. Champion Papers-U.S. Plywood had told a local delegation that if Texas carried out its diversion threat the level of Red River might be lowered to the point where it wouldn't be able to carry off the treated waste brought down to it from the mill on Little River.

Mr. DuVall's article Sunday emphasized a point of which river students are aware but the general public may not be. It's simply this: No state holds sole authority over rivers which also pass through other states. Interstate pacts have to be arranged before water can be diverted by any one state.

If Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana are unsympathetic to a Texas "grab" of Red River the reason is very clear: Water is a country's No. 1 resource, and rather than let our water be diverted to where people and industry are it makes better sense to require people and industry to move where the water now is. They have good and persistent propagandists in Texas; but on our side we have tradition and law - and the water.

Tech School Bid Is $787,000

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) - Simmons & Sons, Inc., of Warren submitted an apparent low bid of $787,000 Monday for the remodeling of six buildings at East Camden that will be used for the new Southwest Vocational Technical Institute, a state institution that will provide two-year courses in occupational fields not covered by the present state vocational-technical schools.

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) - The Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., laboratory, purchased by the state for $40,000 to help the Arkansas Livestock and Poultry Commission develop the poultry industry in the state, was dedicated here Monday. Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller delivered the dedication address.

Malvern Plans Improvements

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) - Water and sewage rate increases approved by the city council in April to qualify the city for federal funds needed to improve the water and sewage systems will be referred to voters in a special election here July 12, Mayor James O. Birch said Monday.

Martin Says Tax Boost Badly Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) - A prompt federal tax boost is needed to head off another round of inflation, says Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board.

Martin, who supported from the start President Johnson's request last January for a six per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes, suggested Monday an even bigger boost now may be warranted.

Despite his request, Johnson still hasn't sent to Congress legislation asking for increased taxes. But administration sources now expect to present the surtax measure to Congress in early July.

Martin cited the rise in long-term interest rates to last summer's peaks and the possibility of a renewed diversion of money from mortgages - which would seriously hamper the recovery in housing construction - in urging prompt tax action.

His appeal came in a talk to the Rotary Club of Toledo, Ohio, but a summary of his remarks was made public by the board in Washington.

"I am firmly convinced that we must have adequate, effective - and above all - prompt tax action that would whittle down the prospective deficit for the coming fiscal year to one of a manageable proportions," Martin said.

New estimates by the administration now place the expected budget deficit for the fiscal year beginning July 1 at $13.6 billion, but some guesses range as high as $20 billion.

Martin said the Federal Reserve's policy of easier money plus higher-than-expected federal spending prevented sluggishness in the economy this year from turning into a recession.

Now, after only a short pause, the economy is beginning to show signs of moving ahead again," he said.

The administration's request for the surtax is based on an expectation of an economic upturn during the second half of this year.

Martin said that in light of the recovery now under way and the rate of federal spending he would be prepared to support an even higher surcharge if it were warranted by congressional action on spending.

U.S. Conversation Made Up of the Grunt, the Murmur, the Holler

NEW YORK (AP) - Practically everyone admits that conversation in America is in a bad way.

It consists largely, as a matter of fact, of three basic sounds: the holler, the murmur, and the grunt.

People holler when they're angry, murmur when they wish to remain noncommittal, and grunt when they are no longer listening at all but wish to give evidence that they are still alive and in the room.

Why has conversation gone into such a decline in a country where it was formerly a powerful and ornamental verbal art form?

Perhaps, to get the conversational ball rolling again, we need to put a moratorium on gripes, complaints, accusations, and gloomy forecasts and replace them with happy talk.

Tell a fellow some good news today, and he's likely to be so surprised and relieved - and grateful - that he'll prattle on cheerfully with you the rest of the day.

Here, for examples, are a few conversational icebreakers that are guaranteed to make the other person feel better, and thus put him in the relaxed mood conducive to good talk:

"Emerald, dear, I thought sex had gone out of my life forever, and then I looked across the room and saw you standing there in your new miniskirt, lovely as a green gazelle."

"Don't leave now, boys. The house wants to buy you all a round."

Extra Day for State Workers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - State employees, who missed two holidays in February because the General Assembly was in session, will be given an extra day off for the Fourth of July, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Monday. The state Capitol and other state buildings will be closed Monday and Tuesday, he said.

Sheriffs in Defense of Magazine Ads

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Glenn Knight of Little Rock, field secretary for the Arkansas Sheriff's Association, said Monday that the persons who placed 3,275 ads in the association's annual magazine last January were those who "have a feeling - a tender spot - in their heart for law enforcement agencies."

The Arkansas Democrat reported Sunday that some 70 of the ads had been placed by "known gamblers" and individuals who had purchased federal gambling stamps.

Sheriff Herman D. McCormick, president of the Association, said 70 ads represented only about two per cent of those in the magazine, the Arkansas Sheriff and Deputy. And some of those in question, he added, represent persons who only have permits for pinball machines, which are not illegal.

Knight, who solicits all the advertising for the magazine, said that when he was selling ads, "I certainly don't go into a man's place of business and ask him if he has a federal gambling stamp."

Among the establishments advertised in the magazine are the Westwood Club of Little Rock, The Vapors, the Ohio Club, the White Front Club, the Bridge Street Club, Coy's Steak House and the Citizens Club, all of Hot Springs.

McCormick said all 75 Arkansas sheriffs belong to the association and to the National Sheriff's Association, which held its annual convention last week at Las Vegas, Nev.

State Couple Killed in Texas

ROMAYOR, Tex. (AP) - Mrs. Kathryn Hill Burnett, 46, of Romayor, formerly of Black Rock (Lawrence County), Ark., and her husband, Jack D. Burnett, 43, formerly of Pine Bluff, Ark., were killed here Saturday when their car was hit by a train.

Service, sir. It's about that letter we sent telling you to report to our office next Monday with all your expense account receipts and vouchers from 1958 through 1964. I'm afraid it was a bureaucratic bungle. My chief has asked to take you to lunch on the government, of course, and explain how the mixup happened."

"Reginald, that Gen. de Gaulle has been acting like such a Mr. Smarty Pants lately that I think we should call off our vacation trip to Paris. What do you say if we stay home this summer instead, and you can go golfing as much as you want?"

"The accident was all my fault, Mac. I know I didn't signal for a left turn. I'm a claims adjuster and carry plenty of insurance. What do you think it'll take to iron out that dent in your fender - $500, $600, $700?"

"Since I arranged these blind dates, Paul, I'll take the homely one, and you take the pretty one. She seems stuck on you already, anyway."

"I guess we'll have to take in the pants, sir. Your waist has gone down from 44 to 37 inches since I sold you your last suit."

"Don't spread this around the office, Jake, but you've done such a good job lately, we've decided to give you a special midyear bonus as well as the usual Christmas bonus. Do you think an extra $2,000 would help you celebrate the Fourth of July?"

That's all that's needed to revive conversation in America - a few things really worth talking about.

Followup Talk by Rusk and Gromyko

By WILLIAM N. OATES
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko plan a followup talk tonight on the major international issues passed down to them from the Glassboro summit sessions.

Since Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Johnson wound up their weekend conferences still far apart on big issues, their aides were unlikely to come up with any quick agreements.

Rusk and Gromyko were to dine at the Soviet U.N. mission and discuss such items as Vietnam, the Middle East crisis and ways to hold down the arms race. The proposed draft of a treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons appeared to offer the best prospects for progress.

Johnson and Kosygin agreed to high priority for this treaty, which the two atomic superpowers propose to present at the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference. U.S. sources said an agreed U.S.-Soviet text has been virtually completed.

On the Middle East issue the United States and the Soviet Union are still at loggerheads, with Kosygin demanding an immediate pullback of Israeli troops as a precondition for a peace settlement and Johnson saying a troop withdrawal should be tied in with a settlement.

Diplomats at the United Nations are seeking a compromise, and some predicted the General Assembly would recess its emergency session for two or three days next week to allow time for more negotiations.

Kosygin and Castro in Secret Talks

HAVANA (AP) - Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Prime Minister Fidel Castro were expected to continue private talks today but the subjects being discussed were kept secret.

Western observers believed the two Communist leaders would range over Vietnam, the Soviet position on the Middle East and Castro's opposition to the Soviet doctrine of peaceful coexistence with non-Communist nations.

Informed sources said there was no official word on how long Kosygin would remain in Havana, but indications pointed to at least another day.

Kosygin was greeted with little fanfare when he arrived Monday after his nine-day visit to the United States, which included two meetings with President Johnson. No crowds were waiting at the airport to greet the first Soviet premier to visit Cuba. There were no bands and no flags.

Signatures for Party Act Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Petitions containing 68,046 signatures - more than twice the number needed to place the Party Affiliation Act on the 1968 general election ballot - were filed Monday with Secretary of State Kelly Bryant.

The petitions were filed by the Citizens Committee to Preserve Voter Rights, Col. Tim Shea, chairman of the committee, said 3,457 petitions were filed Monday and more would be submitted before the Thursday afternoon deadline.

The signatures must be checked against the voter registration lists within 15 days.

The 1967 Legislature passed the Act, which would require a person to register by party, over Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's veto.

Shea said he did not think the committee would continue to operate next year since its purpose was to get the issue on the ballot. He said the Republican Party supplied about one-third of the committee's budget, which he said totaled about $1,250.

Congressmen Briefed on Talks Think Another Is in Works

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congressional leaders, briefed by President Johnson on the Glassboro summit meeting, believe future Johnson-Kosygin talks are in the works.

While the White House moved quickly to head off any impression something definite was planned, the leaders nevertheless gained the idea that Johnson was considering some form of followup on his two meetings with the Soviet premier.

One participant in the Monday night briefing said he felt the President looked on the Glassboro sessions as having created the right atmosphere for future get-togethers.

Another summed up the presidential report by stating that Johnson and Kosygin "agreed on nothing except that they ought to try another time to agree on something."

Two senators told newsmen outside the White House they thought there had been something more firm arranged on future meetings, with the time and place to be set.

But, after a hurried check with Johnson, press secretary George Christian reported that the situation stood as the President outlined it in a post-summit statement Sunday night.

Johnson said then there had been agreement on future direct contacts. Such contacts include meetings, Christian said, but the leaders "did not agree to any specific time, place or date for a meeting."

Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he had understood Johnson and Kosygin had agreed future meetings "would be in order but 'didn't agree on a specific date.'"

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said that was a correct report.

It was the Fulbright-Mansfield interpretation Christian hastened to clarify in an apparent move to avoid any worldwide reports a new summit session was on tap.

Apart from discussing any future contacts, the congressional leaders said they agreed the Glassboro meetings had been useful.

Mrs. Wallace May Have to Have Surgery

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) - Gov. Lurleen Wallace of Alabama says she has a malignancy which may require surgery again.

The nation's only woman governor said she would enter M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston, Tex., next week on the recommendation of her doctors. The hospital is noted for its treatment and study of cancer.

Her husband, former Gov. George C. Wallace, is expected to be a third-party candidate for president next year.

In a tersely worded announcement Monday night, the diminutive 41-year-old Alabama chief executive said tests conducted during a thorough physical examination last week showed "that I have a malignancy which may again require surgery."

If Mrs. Wallace is out of the state for more than 20 days, state law provides that Lt. Gov. Albert Brewer of Decatur will assume the duties of her office until she returns.

Man Held in Fatal Shooting

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) - Frank Meier, 51, of Center Hill Greene County, who held three deputy sheriffs at bay with a rifle and pistol before being knocked unconscious from behind by State Trooper James Danley, was being held here Monday in connection with the fatal shooting of Hoyt B. Marshall, about 60, of Center Hill.

Marshall, a former chief of police for the state Land Office, was shot and killed Monday afternoon during an argument over a drainage ditch that runs between his property and Meier's.

Execution of American Is Feared

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) - A Communist broadcast 12 days ago appeared to announce the execution of a U.S. aid official taken prisoner by the Viet Cong nearly two and a half years ago, the U.S. mission announced today.

The official is Gustav C. Hertz, 48, chief of the public administration division in Saigon of the U.S. Agency for International Development. His wife and four children live in Leesburg, Va.

A statement from the U.S. mission said the "language of the broadcast is not fully clear, but it implies that Gustav Hertz suffered the same fate as Sgt. Kenneth Roraback, who was executed on Sept. 28, 1965, as an announced act of reprisal."

In the air war against North Vietnam, Air Force, Navy and Marine jets flew 115 missions Monday and returning pilots reported a month of heavy bombing had knocked out the major rail yard at Kep, 38 miles northeast of Hanoi, adjoining a big MIG airfield and an electric power station.

Chinese Communist MIGs shot down a U.S. Air Force Phantom jet which the Air Force said strayed over Red China's Hainan Island by mistake, but the two fliers aboard the Phantom parachuted into the South China Sea and were rescued.

In the ground war, the Communists hurled several hundred more rocket, mortar and artillery shells Monday night at U.S. Marine and South Vietnamese posts south of the demilitarized zone, killing six Marines, wounding 96 and killing and wounding an unannounced number of South Vietnamese.

A U.S. spokesman said a broadcast June 15 by the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, "appears to state" that Hertz "has already been put to death as an act of reprisal."

Hanoi radio on June 16 said the Viet Cong had announced on June 12 that it would execute American prisoners "including a major" if the South Vietnamese government executed three Viet Cong agents the broadcast said had been sentenced to death in Saigon. However, there has been no indication of any recent executions by the Saigon government.

U.S. Attorney R. D. Smith Has Resigned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Robert D. Smith, 52, of Little Rock, U.S. attorney for the Eastern District of Arkansas since January 1962, resigned Monday because of ill health.

W. H. "Pete" McClellan, 55, also of Little Rock, assistant U.S. attorney for the district since April 1962, was named acting U.S. attorney pending President Johnson's nomination of a permanent successor.

Smith, a native of Marianna, practiced law there until being named U.S. attorney. He was drawing a salary of $20,000, the maximum set by the Justice Department for U.S. attorneys in Little Rock.

McClellan, a half-brother of U.S. Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., was appointed as Smith's temporary replacement by federal District Judge J. Smith Hanley, Gordon E. Young and Oren Harris, all of whom hold court in the Eastern District.

McClellan practiced law for 25 years at Malvern, where he served as city attorney in 1940-46. He served two terms as prosecuting attorney for the Seventh Judicial District, which includes Hot Spring, Saline and Grant counties.
